WITAN

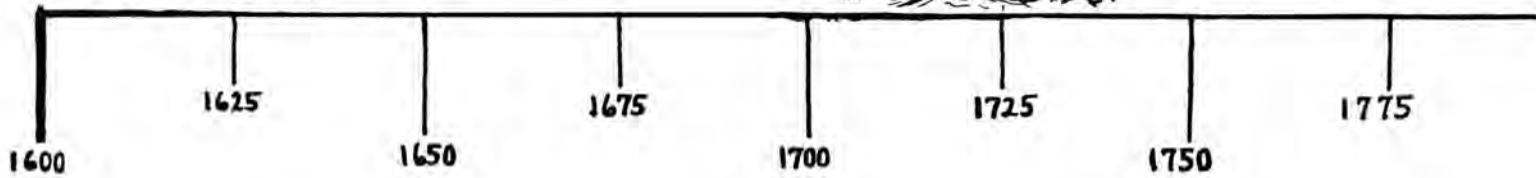

WESTWARD, HO!

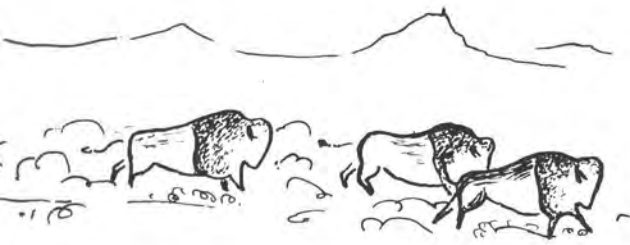

WESTWARD HO! WESTWARD BOUND! OPEN ALL YE MINDS TO THE HORIZONS BEYOND

The sighting of land by the early settlers, after months of tossing on the restless, formidable ocean, must have given them a great sense of accomplishment. Instead of contenting themselves with remaining on the coast, they kept pushing on, ever westward, opening up new frontiers. These dauntless pioneers crossed scorching prairies, forded raging rivers, and climbed rugged mountains, thus conquering seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

We, the Class of 1960, remember when, as seventh graders, we looked forward to this memorable year. Just as the sighting of land marked a great accomplishment for the early settlers, so completing this year signifies for us a noteworthy accumulation of achievements. Though proud of these accomplishments, we are determined not to become complacent. Scanning the distant horizons, we, like the pioneers, also envisage exciting new frontiers; of knowledge, adventure, happiness and spiritual satisfaction. The future is limitless for us if our ingenuity, perseverance, and dedication equals that of our pioneer fathers.

Mr. Bernard Tracy, a native of Rochester, has been a member of the Charlotte High School faculty for thirty-seven years. He is a graduate of West High School, Plattsburgh State Normal, and the University of Rochester, where in addition to receiving a Bachelor of Education degree, he did post graduate work.

During World War I, Mr. Tracy, assigned to the headquarters of General Pershing, spent two years overseas. After the war he remained in France where he played baseball with the Marine Corps and learned to speak French fluently. While in Europe, he traveled in Scotland, England, Ireland, Belgium, Germany, Monaco, Italy and Spain.

Mr. Tracy, an ardent sports enthusiast, has played football with The Gibsons, a championship Rochester team; baseball with the Marine Corps, with Seneca Falls in the New York State League, with the Holley, New York town team and caught for exhibition games with the New York Giants. In addition to playing, Mr. Tracy has coached a championship varsity baseball team here at Charlotte High School, and he originated the first baseball team at Plattsburgh State Normal School. His interests do not end with team sports, but also include boxing, golf, and fishing.

Business students in the past thirty-seven years have benefitted from the superior guidance of Mr. Tracy. Countless hundreds can recall the enjoyment of devouring typing or bookkeeping fundamentals spiced with his warmth and wit.

Now that he is contemplating retirement and a life of leisure with his wife, two daughters and four grandchildren, we wish him health and happiness in years to come. In recognition of his long service to his country and Charlotte High School, we, the Class of 1960, dedicate the 1960 Witan to Bernard J. Tracy.

Glenn M. Denison, principal

The old frontiers are gone. New frontiers are much in the news—frontiers of outer space, frontiers of new scientific and technical knowledge.

Fully as important and of immediate concern to each of us should be the frontiers within us.

May each member of the class of 1960 be successful in the attack on the adventurous frontiers within—the frontiers of idealism, of understanding, of self-discipline. Success on these frontiers will mean success indeed.

This is my wish for each one of you.

G. M. Denison

ADMINISTRATION

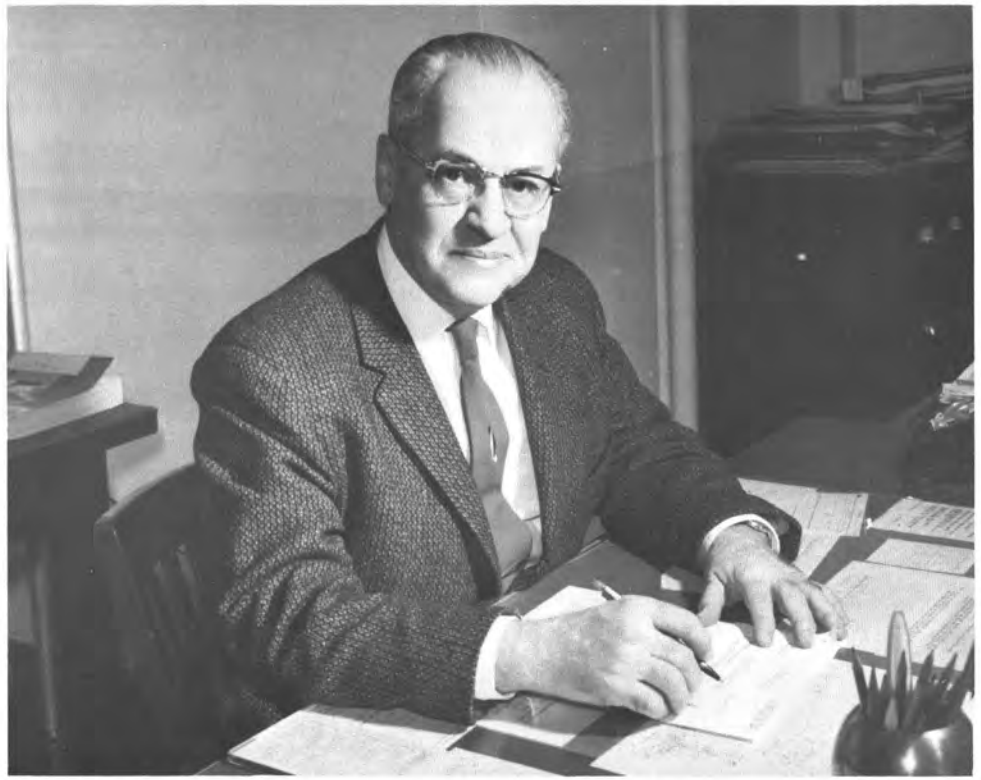

Mr. and Mrs. Denison at home.

In the early days of westward expansion, the pioneers relied upon the North Star to guide them to their destinations. This served not only as their compass and guide, but also as a friend and companion on lonely nights when they sat around the campfire and gazed at the sky.

Our North Star, the Advisory staff, is headed by Mr. Gates, who is assisted by Miss Miner and Mr. Frasch. They have, along with their fellow-workers, helped to point us in the right directions. Without them, we, as pioneers, might have left the "beaten track" and fallen somewhere along the way.

We, the Class of 1960, salute you and express sincere appreciation for all the help and friendship you've provided us in the past six years.

Backstage during "Our Town," He was seen bobbing up and down.

She started the year a miss, Now she's enjoying marital bliss.

Daily in Room 115, He teaches the World and American scene.

Thousands of girls, large and small, By this adviser have been "kept on the ball."

Vacation time she takes many a junket, Who's for Washington with . . . ?

Doling out portions of Caesar and Gaul, She can be found right off the main hall.

Here a dashing young scholar, Now he trains hort students to earn a dollar.

Boys, short of cash? Get your working papers from . . .

A girls' gym leader to tell the truth, Who else but our own . . .

Whether council, WITAN or teen canteen, He's quite apt to be on the scene.

If your math you haven't learnt, How about a lesson from . . . ?

Here she sits, carefree, free of need, New in English, she's . . .

Bobbins, spindles and Singer machine, Just February first she came on the scene.

Soccer, guidance and soph adviser, To outdo him, be an early riser.

To appreciate Illiad, Odyssey or Ivanhoe, We recommend to 207 you go.

Need help with remedial read? This is the lady you should have seed.

At C.H.S., our second in command, Always ready with his helping hand.

Boston, hockey and beans, He explains what physics means.

Small, dainty and pretty of face, She'll teach you to draw, paint or trace.

He'll make a poster, fancy or plain, In room 125, that's his domain.

The expansion of a country is reflected in the development of its flag. Bordering this page are flags representing major steps in the growth of our nation. Designed by Betsy Ross, the first Stars and Stripes was a visual symbol of the original thirteen colonies. As the frontier was pushed farther westward, increasing the size and strength of the country, new territories adopted visual pre-statehood symbols. Among the most colorful were the Lone Star State Flag of independent Texas and California's famed Bear Flag. Within our senior year, the United States added two new stars to its flag when Congress authorized statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

Each year, Charlotte High School awards the honor of holding this symbol of American expansion to the boy and girl ranking highest in their class. In the Class of 1960, Bonnie Brodt and David Oyer have been selected as Guardian of the Flag and Standard Bearer, respectively.

The idea of democratic representation that was fostered in the West can be seen in the Junior and Senior Councils. The Junior Council governs the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, while the Senior Council governs the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades.

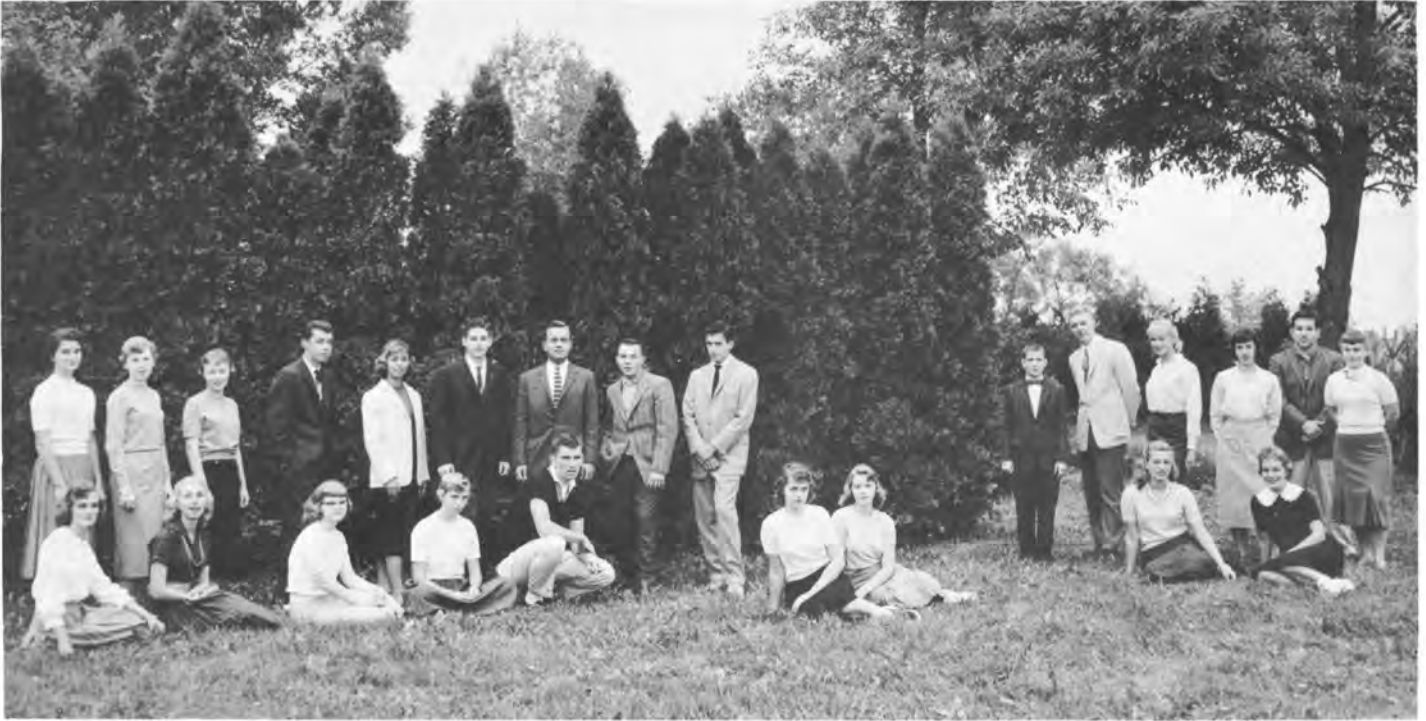

Presided over by the Junior and Senior High Presidents, the Councils consider the suggestions of the homeroom representatives and present them to the Executive Council for approval.

Among other projects instituted by the councils this year were the Books for Europe Drive and the establishment of our new front hall bulletin board committee.

Just as the Indian tribes of the West used the councils to rule their people, Charlotte High utilizes its student councils to make decisions affecting certain areas of student activity.

Under the direction of the Student Association President, the Executive Council is responsible for establishing the school budget, planning the school's calendar, organizing student elections, regulating the cheerleading system, and directing many other student-sponsored activities.

Among new projects undertaken this year, the Executive Council has instituted a committee to make more effective use of the school's bulletin boards and display cases. Another council project has resulted in the displaying of individual portraits of former Student Association presidents.

Being represented by these councils, the students are continually striving to bring better student government to Charlotte High School.

Charlotte High is fortunate to have many organizations that are willing to assist in the efficient running of our school. Among these are the Lunchroom Monitors, Hall Monitors, Fire Drill Squad, Office Practice Assistants, and the Bookstore Clerks.

Just as the aim of the vigilantes of the West was to serve law and justice, so do the Lunchroom and Hall Monitors strive to carry out order in our school. Under the guidance of Mr. Berndt and Mr. Goldstein, the Lunchroom Monitors are working with the students to maintain an atmosphere in the cafeteria which is conducive to good digestion. The Hall Monitors, under the supervision of Mr. Shea, patrol the corridors to maintain orderly conditions in our overcrowded halls.

As the cavalry of the West warned the settlers of impending dangers, so does the Fire Drill Squad of Charlotte similarly alert the students to the "all clear" signal. The familiar orange flag, displayed at the ten exits by Mr. Frasch's squad, signifies that the building has been inspected and declared safe for reoccupancy.

Acting as scouts who assisted the team master by relieving him of many duties, the Office Practice Assistants aid the teachers by lessening their never ending clerical work. The services they render are greatly appreciated by the teachers.

Our bookstore, where one can purchase anything from pens to pennants and crayons to Kleenex, is carrying on the traditions established by the general store of the Old West. For their prompt, courteous service, the students extend their appreciation to Mr. DeCoster and the girls.

The Audio-Visual Air Corps was established several years ago at Charlotte by Mr. Bennett. Interested students in grades eight through eleven may begin a training program at the beginning of the school year. Those who successfully complete the program are awarded a license to operate the wide range of audio-visual equipment which Charlotte owns. Miss Kay Miller is the adviser to the Corps.

The Photo Service, under the supervision of Mr. Heffernan, is organized by students who are interested in photography. The boys in this organization are familiar figures as they practice their "shutterbug" techniques at most school functions. After they do their film processing in the school's photo lab, they forward their final product to the display committee, the Pilot, the Witan or sometimes Rochester's daily newspapers.

BOOSTER CLUB

The Booster Club was established in September 1958 to promote school spirit. No doubt the organization's crowning achievement has been the sponsoring of the annual Homecoming Weekend in the fall. Highlights of the festivities are a pep rally, an exciting parade of floats down Lake Avenue, and a football game. The grand finale to the weekend is a Homecoming Canteen at which the Homecoming Queen is chosen.

We are indebted to Mr. McMahon, adviser to the Booster Club, for the time and effort he has volunteered to make this newly-established tradition such an unqualified success.

CHARTERED BUS

The Charter Bus Committee was organized to increase school spirit by transporting students to, and from football and basketball games. For only forty cents, any student is entitled to a round-trip bus ride and the fun and frolic which manifests itself among school-spirited classmates en route to support the Green and White.

MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

The November Annual Memorial Scholarship Fund Drive, headed by Bonnie Brodt, reached a total of $432.64, the highest amount collected within the last ten years. This fund was established in 1919 to give aid to deserving students who would otherwise have to leave school. To arouse enthusiasm for the drive, a contest was held between the seniors and juniors, sophomores and freshmen, and seventh and eighth graders. The faculty adviser for the drive was Miss Denio.

RED CROSS

The main function of the Junior Red Cross Committee at Charlotte is the managing of the annual fund drive. The money which is collected is sent to Chapter Headquarters where it is distributed among the different Junior activities. Besides conducting the annual drive, the members of this committee attend a monthly inter-school meeting of the Junior Red Cross. Here they learn more about Red Cross work; they see films, listen to speakers, work on projects, and exchange ideas with one another. The progress of Junior Red Cross Work is then reported to all schools.

of America, and along the shores of the Great Lakes, and all over the prairies."*

ACTIVITIES

To remind those who have forgotten and to inform those who do not know, the Witan staff of 1960 would like to take this opportunity to tell you how our yearbook got its name.

Many years ago, in Anglo-Saxon England, every man in each town helped to rule his town by stating his opinions directly in an open meeting.

As England grew, however, a need for a representative government arose. The king called all the wisest men in the kingdom to a council called a Witenagemot. Here each man spoke for those he represented.

At Charlotte our yearbook, the Witan, represents you, the students. It speaks for your interests and activities.

Freedom of the press, an important factor in the development of American democracy, has grown and expanded with our country. Among the settlers' main contacts with friends and relatives back home was the newspaper. Just as the Western papers started with very little and grew, so Charlotte's newspaper, the Pilot, enlarged.

About forty years ago, the first edition of the Pilot was published in the print shop M. Cook, C. Wendl, N. Hagberg, C. Mansfield. of the old Charlotte High School. At that time, the Pilot was not a regular publication. Today, however, it is issued every six weeks and has become a part of the curriculum at Charlotte.

YORKERS

The Yorkers Club, a relatively new junior high activity at Charlotte, was organized by Mrs. Friel and Mr. de Zafra in 1958. Now under the leadership of Mr. Molesworth, this chapter of the New York State Historical Association is competing against about one hundred and fifty other groups. Awards are presented annually for the best projects undertaken by the various chapters throughout the state. For their first project this year, the Yorkers placed a wreath on Sam Patch's grave to commemorate his death one hundred and fifty years ago.

One of the most significant phases during the settlement of the West was the blending of many cultures into a melting pot.

As America grew, an interest in the study of foreign languages arose. Les Babillards, the French Honor Society, is a symbol of this interest. It is composed of students from the second and third year French classes who have maintained a high average in their study of the language.

During the year, the members hold a formal initiation tea and participate in an inter-high French banquet or Soiree. The Carolyn Emerson Prize book is awarded for the highest French II regents exam, and French III pupils who have maintained an "A" average receive honor awards.

OPTIMATES

As America expanded and gained influence in world affairs, we realized the importance of foreign languages in understanding foreign cultures. Latin became the foundation of many of these languages.

The Latin Honor Society was established to encourage students to strive for and maintain a high scholastic standing in Latin. The qualification for membership is described in the society's name, "Optimates," meaning best. The emblem of the society is the Fasces, a bundle of reeds around an ax, which is a symbol of strength. Members of the society who have maintained an "A" average for three years are presented with a Cum Laude Pin.

COMMERCIAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Commercial Honor Society, now almost thirty years old, is composed of junior and senior girls who have maintained a high scholastic average. Inviting business people and postgraduates to speak on office routines and procedures, they combine work with pleasure, and learn about the business world which they plan to enter. Under the guidance of Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Ertle, and Mrs. Hofmann, many of these girls work in the office and act as secretaries for various teachers.

The International Club, a new extracurricular activity at Charlotte, was organized a year ago by Mrs. Luckett in an effort to improve understanding of peoples of other nations. Membership in the organization is limited to pupils in the senior high. This year the group is headed by Mrs. Luckett and Mr. Howland. The club plans interesting meetings at which people from other lands speak and show slides describing their countries. A special attraction this year was a banquet at which William Clay, Rochester attorney, spoke on his tour through Russia.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Education was an important phase of America's expansion. At an early date, Massachusetts passed a law ordering every town of fifty inhabitants to engage a teacher to instruct the children in reading and writing. As other areas were settled they, too, made laws to provide for the schooling of the young.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization of students who are planning to enter the teaching profession. Realizing that America's future success depends on an educated society, these future teachers are dedicated to broadening the horizon of knowledge.

This club is a national organization which participates in activities concerned with the teaching profession. Advised by Mrs. Granger, these students make trips, sponsor teas, and see films which encourage and enlighten them.

The Future Nurses of America, organized in 1957, is part of a national organization to further acquaint girls with the many aspects of a future career in nursing. Any girl in the senior high may join. This year, the twenty members in the group meet twice a month at 8:00 A.M. Requirements for membership include attendance at twelve regular meetings, twenty days of volunteer nursing at one of the city hospitals, and one field trip. New members are pinned during an initiation ceremony which takes place in the University of Rochester Library.

CHARLOTTE

Y-Teens is a girls' organization which is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. Each grade has its own group of girls who participate in worthwhile activities for the community as well as supply entertainment for their own enjoyment. Their activities include films, speakers, community projects, parties, dances, and Y.W.C.A. activities. Their primary purpose is, "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians."

CANTEEN 1960

Charlotte's "hoe down," the Teen Canteen, is one of the most popular functions of the school. This, the oldest canteen in Rochester, was originated by Miss Miner in 1943.

The Teen Canteen is unique in many ways. At present, it is the only school-sponsored canteen in the Rochester public schools. Sponsored by the student committees with the aid of Mr. Richard Berndt, the faculty adviser, the canteens are planned to offer entertainment and recreation at low cost. Some of the activities include dancing, ping-pong, basketball, volley ball, and pool. Intermission entertainment, usually supplied by school talent, is also provided by the student canteen committee. Occasionally, profits from the canteens are given to the senior class to help defray Witan expenses.

FOOTBALL '59ers

Although the varsity football team ran into some tough opposition and had several untimely injuries, the season may prove to have been successful in the gaining of valuable experience. Catching the spirit of the pioneers, we are determined to "never give up." In spite of this rather disappointing season, there were bright spots. Highlights for the varsity team were a 0-0 tie with our arch-rival, Marshall, and an exciting 20-19 loss to East. The J.V. season was highlighted by a 14-13 win over East in a thrilling come-from-behind win. "Top Wranglers" on our team were Ron and John Frattare, Bob Ascroft, and Tom Tickner who all were recognized with honorable mention in the local newspapers.

The Charlotte High booters had their ups and downs this season. It seemed that the boys played their best against the top teams in the league, and slumped against the second division clubs. They reached their peak in the final game of the season when they held West, the league co-champion, to a scoreless draw. Our team was the only team to shut out the Occidentals all season.

Outstanding players of the season were Terry Fair and Tony Peck.

The Jayvees met with fair success as they ended their season with one victory as against three setbacks.

Lack of depth, especially in the sprints, prevented Mr. Quenan's trackmen from winning more than three meets, but the season was brightened by many outstanding individual performances.

Dick Mercer completed his fourth year as a broad jumper with no defeats in the regular season. Russ Adams established a new school record of 10' 4" in the pole vault, and placed third in the City Individual Meet. Mike Carnahan broke the Charlotte record with a 4:50.9 mile, good for third in the City Meet, and in this same meet Dave Oyer placed third in the 880.

Outstanding in their events were John Ferrante (880), Tom Goodwin (high jump and shot put), Mel Youngjohn (440), Larry Werner (pole vault and hurdles), Ron Fulmer (440), and Carl Uthe, who scored 48½ points in the 100 yard dash and high jump.

BASKETBALL 1959-60

Although going "none for eighteen" this season, the 1959-60 team gave its loyal supporters many exciting moments. Playing their utmost on the hardwood against Monroe and East, they lost both in the last few moments of the game by 45-42, 40-36 respectively. The future for the '60-'61 campaign looks brighter since the never-say-die boys have five of the varsity returning after a year of grooming. John Frattare culminated his fourth year on the starting five as the backcourt playmaker. Tom Goodwin, Tony Peck, and Ron Frattare were consistent point-getters, while Bob Zimmerli, Terry Fair, and Mark Lucas showed that they will have to be reckoned with in the coming season.

Larry Kilmer

This year in the midst of a disparaging sports season the swim team has come through in fine style. They finished the season at 4 won—4 lost, losing at least two meets in the final relay. The season has produced some very fine swimmers who should have C.H.S. very close to the top at the end of next season. Ron Bastian was top point-getter in the medleys and freestyle, while Warren Sleeter was a consistent finisher in the backstroke. Frank Johnston finished his last season with some diving upsets of his own and Larry Kilmer was a bulwark on the team relay.

The sectionals found C.H.S. finishing seventh in the team standings with Warren Sleeter taking third, Ron Bastian fifth, and the relay team fifth.

Next year, with the development of some fine younger members, the C.H.S. swim team may prove to be one of the school's finest.

The 1959 Varsity Baseball Team wound up the season on the short side of a two for eight record.

Lack of experience hindered the squad; ten of fourteen members were juniors or below. Seniors who played their last contest for the green and white were Brian Covert, Bill McKendry, Jack Laird, and Mixe Rex.

This year, John Frattare has returned to action behind the plate, and is expected to combine with Bill Hargreaves for a winning battery combination.

As the WITAN goes to press, the 1960 season seems to be promising as it begins with a 9-8 victory over Madison.

Outstanding wrestlers on the team this year were Glen Kavanaugh with a 7 and 1 record, Pete Schillaci with a 3 and 0 record, and Lee Forster with a 3 and 3 record.

In the sectional competition this year, Glen Kavanaugh and Dick Mainwaring were runners-up to the city champs in the 154 pound and the 98 pound weight classes respectively.

The Leader Corps is a boys' organization founded two years ago at Charlotte High School. One of its primary purposes is to promote the physical, mental, moral and social well being of our students.

Chief among the functions of the Corps is the program of gym class "Leaders," an activity designed to assist the health education teachers and provide valuable leadership training for the Corps members. Each Leader is responsible for a gym squad which he selects in September and works with throughout the year.

In addition to health education activities, the Corps has established a treasury by maintaining a refreshment stand at football games and by doing set-up work at Canteens.

At present, the Leader Corps is an organization unique at Charlotte High School. It is hoped that the good work of our group will encourage other high schools to follow our example.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Years ago, Indian councils contained the real power over all the other Indians. They met at specific times to talk about problems and to vote on the decisions. This council consisted of the older tribesmen.

Here at Charlotte we find the same principle employed in the G.A.C. It consists of the 9th through 12th grade girls who govern all girls' athletic activities after school. The council meets once a month and is advised by Miss Booth. A G.A.C. member is expected to assist her classmates in athletic activities, help the faculty advisors, and stimulate an interest in girls' sports.

Activity points are awarded for attendance. Under Charlotte's new award system, an award is given when 250 points have been reached.

BADMINTON

Badminton, a very popular sport here at Charlotte High, attracted many girls from grades nine through twelve. This year girls played doubles; each girl had a partner and each set of partners played together for the season. At the end of the season the partners with the highest total of points played off for the championship.

BASKETBALL

Basketball, another one of the many girls' sports offered at Charlotte, had a good turnout this year. At the beginning of the season the club was open to ninth graders and those who wished to learn the fundamentals. During the next season it was opened to the more experienced girls. Although the girls might not fare well against the boys' varsity, they would compete well in any league of their own.

SWIM CLUB

GAMES CLUB

Swimming and Games Club, the two sports open to the seventh and eighth graders, had a good year with a record turnout of girls. Seventh graders in Games Club play a wide variety of games designed to improve co-ordination and foster a competitive spirit. In the Swimming Club the girls are taught various strokes which helps them in meeting their school swimming requirements.

CHEERLEADERS

"Out where the handclap's a little stronger,
Out where the smile dwells a little longer,
That's where the West begins."

These words of Arthur Chapman are applicable to Charlotte's cheerleaders. Their vigorous cheering, clapping, and vivacious enthusiasm have aroused our school spirit.

Charlotte's cheerleaders are chosen by the Executive Council and four faculty members. They are judged not only on their cheering ability, but also on their appearance, poise, and crowd appeal. Try-outs are held every May and as soon as the results are announced, practice begins for the coming year.

These enthusiastic girls in green and white have upheld the traditional school spirit and good sportsmanship at Charlotte High.

*Memories, memories, like a long trail winding,
No way back but always reminding.*

Bonnie Brodt

Last summer was one I shall never forget. The American Field Service chose me as one of the thousand Teenage Diplomats to represent America in Europe.

How different the European cities are: spotlessly clean avenues and small neat houses with flowers in every window. Because of the war's destruction, modern skyscrapers tower above Fifteenth Century establishments.

My family met me in Hammerum, a small friendly town in central Denmark. There, my Danish sister, Kirsten, 17, introduced me to my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zacho, and my brother Anders, 14. Immediately, I felt at home. Mor, as I called Mrs. Zacho, spoke no English, but language was never a barrier, for where words failed, gestures began.

Riding in a Mercedes Benz up and down the narrow, winding mountain roads, amidst low-hanging clouds and snow-capped peaks, was quite an experience in mid-July. Valleys opened up with quaint little farm settlements where we purchased our dairy products daily. Our car was not used as a regular means of transportation. Instead, we rode bicycles to town, to tennis courts, to swimming pools and local shops.

We enjoyed many hours of sports recreation along with a ten day camping trip through parts of Norway and Sweden. Each afternoon we enjoyed a traditional coffee hour with tempting pastries. Evenings were spent discussing American and Danish life.

At the end of the ten week summer abroad, the fifty-two diplomats who had lived in Denmark gathered in Copenhagen for a busy, fun-packed week. We arrived home happy to have been a part of such a wonderful program.

TEENAGE DIPLOMATS

To really get to know a nation and its people, you have to live among them. I feel that I have a greater understanding of American customs and people after my year here. I have so much respect for these people, who have been so kind and so helpful to me, that this has become my second home.

One of the things that impresses me the most is how Americans manage to do so much in so little time. I found myself overwhelmed by the clubs, activities and social functions in which the students participate. No wonder American youths are self-possessed, confident people. Another impressing institution is the amount of student government your students enjoy. You truly learn of democracy by practicing it in your schools.

During my visit in Rochester, you fine people have provided me a simply marvellous time. I am indebted to you all for your friendship and hospitality and can never thank the American Field Service enough for this year of unforgettable experiences. I am sure that I shall never forget my American family, the Fox's and my friends here in Rochester and Charlotte High.

"AURA LEA"

On May 9, 1959, our gym was transformed into a Southern plantation, which portrayed a land of courtly gentlemen and elegant belles, when the Class of 1960 presented its Junior Prom. It was entitled "Aura Lea," the name of a melodic Civil War love song. Girls glided with their escorts around a sparkling fountain to the music of Syl Novelli. A flower-decked trellis enclosed our charming queen, Kathy Hogan, and her escort, Klaus Zirkel. The junior prom committee, aided by Dave Oyer and Larry Kilmer, co-chairmen of this never-to-be-forgotten occasion, designed and assembled the elaborate and breathtaking decorations.

"SNOW MOUNTAIN"

The Senior Class captured the atmosphere of a ski resort for its Senior Ball, "Snow Mountain," held on December 19, 1959. The couples danced to the music of Sonny Allen's band amidst sparkling evergreens on snow covered mountains, frozen ponds and streams, a lodge, and graceful deer in the distance. Snow coated spruce trees placed in the center of the floor added to this resort setting. A bright red sleigh served as the throne for the lovely queen, Ann Marvin, and her escort, Wayne Searls. The evening was under the direction of the various chairmen and all their hard working committees, who contributed to the success of this Senior Ball. "Snow Mountain" will long be remembered as a very special night.

Soon after school started in the fall, Charlotte's corridors were buzzing with excitement. Committees were busy making floats, contacting alumni, nominating candidates for queen and arranging details for the main event on the school calendar, Homecoming Weekend. This event, which originated in the fall of 1958, was sponsored by the enthusiastic students of the Booster Club and its featured guests were the alumni. Highlights of the weekend were a rousing Friday night pep rally, an elaborate parade, an exciting football game, and the Homecoming dance at which the queen was crowned. The award-winning float was that of the "Class of '60," which depicted the two new states, Hawaii and Alaska. Another was a very humorous float entered by the "Class of '49." Homecoming Weekend was enjoyed by faculty, students, friends, neighbors, and especially the alumni.

SPORTS NIGHT JUNIORS vs SENIORS

DANCING - REFRESHMENTS - GAMES

Sports Night, a contest between the Junior and Senior classes, was originated by the Class of '60 in their junior year, and was repeated this year when the Class of '61 challenged the seniors. The class earning the most number of points for five sports events is pronounced victor. Enthusiastic students crowded the stands to cheer their team and to witness their teachers battling for either side in a game of volleyball. Scores were close throughout each of the thrilling games. An exciting tug-of-war broke the tie, bringing victory to the juniors. Following the tense excitement of the game, all enjoyed a record dance in the girls gym. Sports Night has fostered a competitive spirit between the two classes besides providing students with a fine opportunity to "let off steam." The Class of 1960 hopes that this event will become a tradition at C.H.S.
